Mrs. Mary Sullivan and Miss Annies Sullivan were called to Pence Springs but the death of Miss Garvey, daughter of John Garvey. D. George F. Hull was called to Baltimore on Tuesday by the serious condition of his brother-in-law, from a gunshot wound. W. P. Starcher, wife and child and E. E. Starcher, of Ripley, Jackson County, passed Marlinton Friday in their automobile on their way to Gettysburg to see Glen Hill, who will song to France with his regiment. Dr. Robert H. Fleming, of Baltimere, who is spending a part of Uis vacation here, fell from the platform of Harlow Waugh's store last Thursday, and broke a bone in his shoult 	 Greenbrief Division. This called the property descent in the second will leave about 7:30, and the train for Ronceverte, westbound, will leave about 0:30. The freight from Winterburn will arrive from 1 to 3 p. m. and the Ronceverte freight about the same ime. This will put the crews of two trains in Marlinton every night, and will probably mean the addition of a number of families to our town. Miss Veta Williams is visiting at Edray this week. S. B. Yeager expects to go to Hundington very soon to work as earpenter. B. M. Yeager and W. B. Sharp went to Webster Springs on Tuesday in automobile. Keatley elected Clerk. Other members making up the board, which will serve as an appeal board for all claims for exemption appealing before the local boards, are A. S. Land. of Logan; Chris. J. Schweichert, of Hinton, and Dr. Vinson, of Huntington. What is regarded as the most valuable feature of the work that is being done by the State Department of Agriculture in connection with its recently established Bureau of Markets is the publication and distribution in advance to all the large produce buyers in West Virginia and nearby states, lists of the names of growers of specific products, together with an estimate of the amount of the produce they will have to ship at harvest time. One of the biggest jobs in the way of military selections that has been assigned to any one in West Virginia was that given by the Central Department to Lieutenant Colonel William Wallace in the selection of the 216 best men out of a total of 1,200 applicants for admission to the second officers' reserve training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison. Colonel Wallace and an army medical officer are out in the state making examination personally of the most promising. The State Road Commission has announced that a conference of representatives of every city in West Virginia has been called for August 7 in the commission's office at Charleston, to discuss state roads and work out rules and regulations of the legislature.
